

Looking to correct past mistakes, Monique is working to earn her GED and instill a sense of respect for education in her daughter, despite being met with roadblocks at every turn within the welfare system, as seen in Work & Happiness: The Human Cost of Welfare.